KILLS HIMSELF AT RETREAT FOR SICK
GAVE HIM BABY GIRL IN BUNDLE

J. T. Snyder, Well-Known Horseman, Gets Laudanum in Mysterious Way.

HAD BEEN DRINKING HARD

Removed to Hospital for Treatment After Physician Saw Him at Hotel.

While on the verge of delirium tremens, J. T. Snyder, a well-known horseman and owner of horses of Scottsville, committed suicide by swallowing two ounces of laudanum in the Retreat for the Sick some time yesterday evening, dying at 9 o'clock last night.

Mr. Snyder had been here two weeks, stopping at Murphy Hotel part of the time, and having been at Rueger's since Saturday. At the latter place, when his condition was noticed, the best possible care was taken of him and he was not permitted to have any intoxicants. Yesterday morning, however, his condition became worse, and Dr. W. T. Oppenheimer was called in to attend him. Dr. Oppenheimer advised that he be taken to a hospital, and the patient was carried to the Retreat.

Not Known How He Got It.

How he got hold of the laudanum is not known. The physician and nurses in charge noticed at 6 o'clock that the man appeared to be falling into a stupor, and attempts to arouse him failed.

An examination proved that he was suffering from laudanum poisoning. A two-ounce bottle was discovered in his clothes. Heroic methods were resorted to in an effort to save his life, but he was unable to rally, and died at 9 o'clock last night.

Coroner Taylor was called in. He decided that no inquest was necessary, and the body was turned over to the Bennett undertaking establishment.

The proprietors of Rueger's Hotel telegraphed the man's relatives of his death. His family is said to live, however, somewhere in Maryland. He was unmarried. He was well-known in the fair circuits, and won several prizes with his exhibit of horses at the last State Fair here. He was about thirty-five or forty years of age.

AGREEMENT APPROVED

Superior and Railway Company Fix Right of Way.

The Henrico County Board of Supervisors yesterday approved an agreement with the Richmond and Chesapeake Bay Railway Company as to the Brook Turnpike. According to the terms of the agreement the present bed of the railway, which now runs down Brook Road, shall be considered forty feet wide, and the county is to have on each side the thirty-foot right-of-way, making the entire width 100 feet.

In thus clearing up a question which has been hanging for several years, the citizens whose property abuts on the street are relieved from the anxiety of being occupied by the county agree to waive the right to damages. This, however, has no bearing on suits now pending against the railway company. Commonwealth's Attorney Gunn has been instructed to prepare the agreement in legal form and present it to the next regular meeting of the board.

Dr. George Sale, one of the United States special commissioners to Liberia last summer, will give an illustrated lecture on Liberia at the Virginia Union University Friday, Feb. 18, 7:30 P. M.

COWARDLY ATTACK ON YOUNG WOMAN

Lawrence Eggleston Assaults Miss Virginia Andrews for Refusing to See Him.

TWICE KNOCKED HER DOWN

Boarders Afraid to Raise a Hand in Defense, but Police Catch Him.

Because she refused to see him, Lawrence Eggleston, a barber, made a desperate attack on Miss Virginia Andrews, of 42 North Tenth Street, last night, and but for the fact that Mrs. E. M. Thomas, who keeps a boarding-house, telephoned for the police, he might have succeeded in his attempt. Mrs. Thomas was attracted to the sitting-room by the screams of the young girl, and when she rushed to the door Eggleston had Miss Andrews down, hammering and striking her in a frenzy of fury. Mrs. Thomas was afraid to go in, for, as she said afterwards, the man was so worked up in his insane fury that she was afraid for her life.

Screamed for Help.

She screamed loudly for help, and a young man, who boards in the house, came up, but he, too, was afraid to enter the room. When Eggleston saw him he made as if to draw a razor, and that deterred the boarder, who simply stood his ground and made threats. Eggleston continued his pummeling, with the girl writhing on the floor, and several times kicked her. Finally, with almost a superhuman effort, she managed to break loose from him, and ran out into the hall. Eggleston pursued her and again choked her. He picked her up and carried her back into the room, locking the door behind him. Mrs. Thomas was by this time nearly hysterical, thinking that murder was to be done before her very eyes. She screamed for help again, and telephoned for the police. Some men rushed in from the street and broke in the door, and Miss Andrews again escaped, only to be choked, beaten and kicked.

Only after Mrs. Thomas had shouted at him that the police were coming did Eggleston desist from his murderous attempts. By this time the hallway was half-full of men, but Eggleston walked through them, and not a man dared lift his hand to follow him as he walked out into the street, and pointed him out to Policemen Tucker and Vest, who were then on their way to the house.

Eggleston ran when he saw the approaching officers, but Policemen Tucker, who is one of the fleetest men on the force, soon outran and caught him.

Arrested in Street.

Eggleston was taken back to the house and identified.

In the police station last night he said that Miss Andrews refused to see him and tried to push him out.

He struck her and knocked her down twice, he acknowledged, but said that he was drinking and did not fully realize what he was doing. Mrs. Thomas stated that he did not seem the appearance of a drunken man, but that of a furious maniac.

Miss Andrews had met Eggleston but twice. He walked into the house last night without knocking at the door, and saw Miss Andrews. She told him that she could not see him, that she had another engagement, and was presumably jealous that prompted the sudden and violent attack.

Miss Andrews was much bruised about the body and face, and was much shocked. But she will appear in court this morning. She has been in Richmond only about a month, coming here from Roanoke. Her home is in North Carolina.

GETS TO LAY ITS TRACK MORAL ELEMENT OPPOSED TO YODER

Effort to Secure His Pardon Will Be Resisted With Vigor.

WANT PAMPHLET STOPPED

Dr. McDaniel Tells Prisoner Good Order Demands That He Retire.

Representatives of the Richmond and Henrico Railway Company appeared before the Council Committee on Streets last night asking permission to begin actual track construction on East Marshall Street, and on North Fifth Street on Tuesday morning. They had present representatives of several mills, who informed the committee that rails had been shipped; that part of the structural steel for the Marshall Street viaduct was already in the city, and that the contractor for fabricating the bridge had filed a bond for completion before June 1 in the sum of $50,000.

Attorney Samuel L. Kelley, for the company, asked a modification of the franchise cutting out the double overhead trolley requirement and changing the route around Chimborazo Park to Fulton. Councilmen Lynch and Ferguson brought out the fact that the company has as yet made no agreement with the Virginia Railway and Power Company for the joint use of tracks on Broad Street and in Fulton, nor has any arrangement been perfected as to for supplying power with which to operate the proposed line. Mr. Kelley presented Mr. Harper, secretary and treasurer of the Lauer-Harper Company of Baltimore, who said his firm had the contract to furnish the structural steel and fabricate the viaduct.

"We are now making up the steel for rapid delivery," he said. "One carload will be delivered in Richmond to-day. Our company is under contract to deliver the viaduct by June 1, under bond of $50,000, and we are confident we can do it."

Rolls on the Way.

Mr. Davis, who represented the Pennsylvania Steel Company, said his company had the contract for steel rails, 10,000 tons of girder rail, 120 tons of "T" rail, and about twenty tons of cross-ties, and he said he was confident that the rails would be delivered in Richmond to-day. He said that the balance is to be here this week. Eight cars containing 315 tons of girder rails should be here by this morning. The rails were reported as being in Washington to-day, and we have a special man with the shipment to see that there is no delay in transit. The company should all be here by March 15. We have a subcontract from Mr. Harper for plates for the viaduct and hope to get them out at once.

Councilman Richards said he was greatly in favor of the building of the viaduct, but that the long delay of eight years had been a great disappointment to the Richmond and Henrico Railway Company.

"I have seen the contracts for the steel rails," he said, "and I honestly believe they are now acting in good faith, and intend to build the road. We need the viaduct, and I believe that we can have it."

Would Change Route.

Mr. Kelley said his company was now in a position to satisfy the people of Richmond by the fact that the viaduct would be a single overhead trolley system to conform to the style in use by the other companies. The route from Thirty-first and Grace Streets so as to run down the slope of Chimborazo Park into Fulton Street, and then on to the viaduct, was approved by a subcommittee consisting of Messrs. Powers, Lynch and Richards, with the City Attorney and the Board of Public Works. Mr. Kelley gave permission to begin laying track Tuesday morning on Marshall Street from Eleventh to Fourteenth, and on Fifth from Eleventh to Fourteenth, and on Sixth from Eleventh to Fourteenth, and
